Chinese investors are snapping up real-estate in Canada. Millennials have evacuation plans. Moguls are building bunkers. Retirees in Miami are moving inland.

In 'How to Prepare for Climate Change', the author offers sensible, deeply researched advice for how the rest of us should start to ready ourselves for the years ahead. It is a practical and comprehensive guide to surviving the greatest disaster of our time.

The author walks readers through what to grow, what to eat, how to build, how to insure, where to invest, how to prepare your children and pets, and even where to consider relocating when the time comes. He also provides wise tips for managing anxiety, as well as action plans for riding out every climate catastrophe, from super storms and wildfires to ticks and epidemics.

The book is timely and enlightening in the run up to what will be one of the most pivotal UN Climate Change Conferences (COP26) in recent years.
